

THE GOOGASIAN FIRM, P.C.

With a size and set-up that permit it to be creative, The Googasian Firm represents individuals and corporations on a contingent-fee basis, in which the firm's fees turn on a favorable outcome.

THE LAWYERS OF THE GOOGASIAN FIRM, P.C.—APPEARING on the Super Lawyers® list for a fifth consecutive year, with all four of its partners again recognized by their peers—operate a different kind of law firm.

As a specialized plaintiff-side litigation firm, its lawyers selectively pursue a limited number of cases each year. Due to a sterling reputation for favorable outcomes in complex cases, the firm typically receives clients on referral from other lawyers in Michigan and beyond. With a size that purposely remains small and lean, the firm represents clients who know exactly who is handling their case.

Using cutting-edge technology, the firm nimbly and effectively pursues claims against major corporations represented by large law firms. Taking advantage of a size and set-up that permit it to be creative, The Googasian Firm willingly represents both individuals and corporations on a contingent-fee basis, in which the firm's fees turn on a favorable outcome. As leaders not only in the courtroom but also in the bar, The Googasian Firm litigates in a manner that reflects favorably on both its clients and the profession as a whole.

The Googasian Firm utilizes these special characteristics to take on complex commercial matters, class actions and catastrophic injury cases. In addition, the firm is frequently called upon to assist other parties in resolving high-stakes disputes through mediations and arbitrations.

The firm's complex commercial and class action cases, typically involving Thomas Howlett and Dean Googasian, include pursuit of claims on behalf of groups who have suffered millions of dollars worth of harm. Recently, the firm has represented thousands of people in consumer fraud claims against for-profit schools selling expensive programs to adults seeking to better themselves in a harsh economy.

The firm's catastrophic injury cases, frequently involving Craig Weber, include claims of wrongful death, malpractice and negligence due to misconduct by companies and professionals. Recently, the firm pursued claims on behalf of the estate of a 7-year-old boy killed in a tragic but preventable accident at a local ski resort as well as the estate of a father of two killed by a truck driver on an interstate.

The firm's mediation and alternative dispute resolution practice is run by George Googasian, a former president of the State Bar of Michigan and the Oakland County Bar Association. With an unrivaled preeminence, George Googasian is frequently called upon by lawyers and companies on opposite sides of seemingly intractable disputes to achieve settlements.
